

NEWSLETTER – NOVEMBER 2009

Two pieces of good news this month!

Firstly, I am pleased to tell you that Marlow won the first round of the CACC Rose Bowl competition which took place on October 27th. The entries from all four clubs were of a very high standard and we were up against some stiff competition.

Secondly, We have been notified that Marlow Town Council have very kindly awarded us a grant of £500 this year, which I am sure will be put to good use.

As a mark of our gratitude we try to supply the Town Council with images taken at events in Marlow and we ask that you, our members, provide the committee with as many images as possible, the best of which will be sent to MTC for use on their website.

Coming up are the following events which should provide a good opportunity for some great photographs. Please do let Roger know if you are able to help out.

Nov 8 Remembrance Sunday -
Dec 3 Christmas High street -
Dec 6 Santa's Fun Run -

We will give you more details as and when they become available.

November Programme

Tuesday 3rd– Judging with the Judge by Gordon Roberts.

During the first part of the evening Gordon will focus on seeing and taking good photographs and what he as a judge is looking for. After the break, members will have the opportunity of taking on the role of judge commenting on and scoring images provided by Gordon.

Tuesday 10th - Practical Evening – Taking portraits with studio lighting.

Jeni Orme will be on hand with her equipment and lighting to advise on taking good portraits. During this informal evening members will have the opportunity of using their own cameras to take photos of each other. Don't forget to bring your tripod too. Some props such as hats and scarves will be available to add interest.

Tuesday 17th Photographing Architecture – with Matt Wain

Matt, an award winning photographer, will show some of his photographs, giving hints and tips on how to get a good architectural photograph.

Tuesday 24th – We host this joint meeting with Henley. (There will also be a raffle.)

“An Eye on the Hebrides” with Ruari Cumming.

Ruari Cumming LRPS is a professional photographer specializing in the Hebrides, which he has extensively photographed over the last fifteen years. His photographs sell to tourist organizations, tour operators, ferry companies and cruise ship owners for use in their brochures. This is his personal view, aided by the latest AV technology, to bring us the sights, sounds and magic of this unique place. www.Hebridean-island-images.com

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST

BOROUGH MARKET & BANKSIDE

SATURDAY 28th November Time 10am-4pm Cost - £95 per person

A photographic day in Southwark, London, accompanied by a Blue Badge Tourist Guide and Angles GB Professional Photographer.

All skill levels are welcome on this day; this is a marvellous opportunity to enjoy a full day's photography with advice on tap! This is a hands on and informal day, with plenty of lively information about the area from the Blue Badge Guide and one to one advice with our photographer.

Borough Market is vibrant and offers great potential for street photography as well as the delights of the market stalls. London & Tower bridges, Southwark Cathedral, the Millennium (wobbly) bridge, the Globe theatre, and the narrow alleyways give a chance for landscape and architectural shots
